DECLARES TEUTONS CAN'T GET COTTON

English Attorney General States Under Order in Council All Articles Can be Stopped by British.

London, April 18.—That cotton is kept from German and Austria just as effectively as if it were declared absolute contraband, is the tenor of a reply addressed by Attorney General Simon to a conference of chemists and engineers who asked whether the government's action was sufficient to make it certain that no cotton reaches those countries. The attorney general said:

"The attorney general ventures to suggest that those for whom you write may be under some misapprehension either as to the law of contraband or as to the steps which in fact are being taken under the order in council of March 11. The steps being taken under authority of that order in council have been extremely effective in stopping cotton from reaching Germany and the declaration of cotton as contraband would alter the result in the very least so far as preventing cotton reaching Germany is concerned.

"If an article is declared absolute contraband it can be stopped from going to a German port and can be stopped even from going to an adjoining neutral port, if it is in course of transit through that neutral port to an enemy country.

Under Order in Council.

"These are exactly the circumstances in which, under the order in council, any article can be stopped whether it is contraband or not, and, of course, this order in council is being put into force in all proper cases.

"To imagine that since March 11, anything can be gained so far as stopping the entrance of cotton into Germany is concerned by calling in contraband is, in effect, to suppose that a blockade is rendered more effective if you add that specified contraband articles will not be allowed to break that blockade. A blockade stops all articles whether they are contraband or not, and, therefore, any additional rulings would not have any practical consequences. What is true of Germany, of course, is equally true of Austria.

"Your memorialists no doubt will readily believe that there may be good reasons of quite a different kind for not making cotton contraband in view of the precedent which would thereby be created, but as a practical matter in the present war any stoppage of cotton secured by calling it contraband is equally secured by the order in council."

Better Babies Contest.

Through the co-operation of the Civic association, the county superintendent of education, Mr. Brown, and the supervisor of schools, Miss Gogans, plans are practically perfected for the holding of a better babies contest on May 7.

Miss Frayser, of Winthrop college, will come two days beforehand, meeting with committees that will work from now until then under written instructions.

This is in no sense an old-time "baby show," where pretty feathers and dainty clothes determined the prize winners. But, instead, a place where mothers may bring their little ones to have them examined by skilled physicians, dentists and specialists for eye, nose, ear and throat; where they may learn of physical defects and how to correct them in babyhood—defects that if not corrected will result seriously in after life. These things she will learn, and many more.

Further details, as to place, etc., will be announced later. But let every mother in the country who has a baby under three years make plans now to bring it to the contest.

Farmers' Bulletins.

Through the kindness of Mr. Geo. D. Brown, superintendent of education, in giving me space in his office to keep some supplies, I will keep a liberal supply of Farmers' Bulletins on hand in the office, and will be there on Saturdays of each week.

I also have on hand a number of application blanks for inoculation for legumes and will be pleased to have the farmers call on me there at any time that I can be of service to them. I will be glad to secure the inoculation for you free.

Among the bulletins now on hand are some good ones on alfalfa, and I would advise any one who thinks of starting alfalfa this fall to get this bulletin and begin preparation in time. Most failures in growing any of the legumes arise from the fact of poor preparation and lack of inoculation.

Call on me and let me help you with these things. If I don't know I will get the information for you if it can T. M. Mills.

Orchard Sprays.

To prevent worms in apples and pears use the following spray, immediately after the petals have fallen and before the calyx cup closes:

Arsenate of lead (wet paste) 2 pounds (if dry powder 1 pound), quick lime 2 pounds. Dilute the arsenate of lead with water to make a thin paste and slake the quick lime to whitewash. Then add the thin arsenate of lead and the whitewash to 50 gallons of water and the spray is ready for use.

For peach or plums use same solution when blooms are nearly all fallen. T. M. Mills.

Yet in Doubt.

"How is Scribbler getting on with his new historical novel?"

"Very badly. The scenes are laid in Poland and East Prussia, you know, and Scribbler can not make up his mind whether the Grand Duke Nicholas or Field Marshal Von Hindenburg ought to be the hero."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"Deacon Jones' Wife's Ghost," a farce will be presented by the Young People's Glee club at the Solax Wednesday night, the proceeds will be for the benefit of the club, so if you want to help a worthy cause and at the same time enjoy a fine program of vaudeville and pictures do so by being present. Prices 5 and 10 cents.

A Regular Customer.

National Monthly. A clergyman, having performed the marriage ceremony for a couple, undertook to write out the usual certificate, but being in doubt as to the day of the month, he asked:

"This is the ninth, is it not?" "Why, parson," said the blushing bride, "you do all my marrying and you ought to remember that this is only the third."

TURKS GET BRITISH SUBMARINE E-15

Small Craft Runs Ashore While Performing Difficult Task and Seamen Are Made Prisoners.

London, April 18.—The British, as an offset to their success in destroying a Turkish torpedo boat which attacked the transport Manitou of Chios yesterday, lost the submarine E-15, which, while carrying out a difficult reconnaissance in the Dardanelles' mine field, ran aground on Kephez point, the crew being made prisoners.

According to the Turkish report seven of the submarine crew are missing.

The Last Hole, Indeed.

National Monthly.

The story is told of an ancient Scotch golfer whose companion died and was about to be buried. The Scotchman struggled out to the cemetery to be present at the interment, and arriving there, did not know where the grave was. He summoned a boy with a whistle.

"Whist, lad," he said. "It's a new course, Whur's the hole?"

The Inquisition.

Washington Star.

"Father," said the small boy, "do rabbits lay Easter eggs?"

"No, my son."

"And a Welsh rabbit isn't a rabbit at all, is it?"

"No, my son."

"Father!"

"Well?"

"Is there anything that a rabbit is on the level about?"

Accidental Truth.

Puck.

"What grounds have you for thinking that Dasher, the editor, was formerly a stenographer?"

"He returned one of my manuscripts the other day with the endorsement, 'Rejected, but not read.'"

To Drive Out Malaria And Build Up The System Take The Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50 cents

Sprains, Bruises Stiff Muscles

Sloan's Liniment will save hours of suffering. For bruise or sprain it gives instant relief. It arrests inflammation and thus prevents more serious troubles developing. No need to rub it in—it acts at once, instantly relieving the pain, however severe it may be.

Here's Proof

Charles Johnson, P. O. Box 105, Lawton's Station, N. Y., writes: "I sprained my ankle and dislocated my left hip by falling out of a third story window six months ago. I went on crutches for four months, then I started to use some of your Liniment, according to your directions, and I must say that it is helping me wonderfully. I threw my crutches away. Only used two bottles of your Liniment and now I am walking quite well with one case. I never will be without Sloan's Liniment."
